

TEN MURDERERS WERE EXECUTED TODAY

Speaker Gillette To Go From House To Senate

SIX ITALIANS PAY WITH LIVES FOR LOUISIANA MURDER

AMITE, La., May 9.—Modern law demanded six lives for one here today. As crowds of men jammed streets of Amite, leading from the jail, six Italians sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Dallas Calmes, were made ready for the death march.

Although the executions will not start until noon, and only a few may witness the actual hangings, crowds began gathering during the night as near the jail as guards permitted. Some spectators slept in automobiles or rolled in blankets on the ground.

Many of the curious were from Independence where Calmes was shot and killed during an attempted bank robbery three years ago. They were on hand to see that "justice" is done in case, by some last minute technicality or official leniency, the prisoners should not be executed legally. Most of those from Independence and other points in Tangipahoa parish were of French descent.

Mingled with them were countrymen of the prisoners—friends and relatives—who hoped some means might be found before the hour set for the execution of saving the prisoners' lives.

No attempt was made to hide the bitter feeling between the two groups. Two companies of National Guardsmen patrolled the streets and kept close watch on the jail to prevent disorder. Inside the prison, scores of special deputies and police officials were ready for instant action in case of an outbreak.

Few women were in Amite. Those who remained in the village, stayed within doors, but many left last night with the children so as not to be near the scene when the hangings took place.

Throughout the parish, business houses were closed, schools were shut down here and only restaurants, which did a thriving business remained open. Sheriff Bowden announced the men would be executed in pairs in alphabetical order. First will come boyish Joseph Bocchio, who left a grocery store business to engage in banditry. He drove the auto in the hold-up. It was his first job. He confessed. With him will be Natale Deamore.

The next pair to go to the gallows will be Joseph Giglio and Andrea Lamentini. They will be followed by Joseph Rini and Roy Leona. The latter confessed firing the shot which killed Calmes, the restaurant proprietor in the little French settlement, when he attempted to stop the flight of the robbers from the bank.

The Louisiana law requires a man must hang for at least twenty minutes in order to insure death. If the executions start promptly at noon, the last pair is not expected to go to their deaths before 1:15 p. m.

As the hour of death approached, the prisoners seemed more resigned to their fate and regained some of the confidence and composure which was lost when they were brought to Amite Wednesday from the New Orleans jail, where they had been confined for safe keeping.

During the early morning, two priests shouldered their way through the crowds around the jail to be with the condemned men during their last hours.

The men slept little during the night, spending most of their time in prayer. Last farewells were said by the prisoners and their families.

Deputies and guardsmen were in tears, as Deamore's wife and two children hugged and kissed the condemned husband and father.

As Mrs. Deamore and her babies left the prison they came face to face with Mrs. Calmes, widow of the victim. "For God's sake do something to save my husband for my children's sake," Mrs. Deamore pleaded.

Mrs. Calmes replied she was powerless to act as guards led the distracted woman away.

"But I have forgiven Deamore and the other men for slaying my husband," Mrs. Calmes said.

Rini, who has shown the most nerve gave way to emotion as he stretched

ALL SHOULD HEAR MR. AUBREY TONIGHT

The business public of Mexia is again reminded of the lecture at the Central Presbyterian church tonight when Dr. John E. Aubrey will deliver his famous lecture "The One Mile Town."

The Rotary club Thursday unanimously endorsed the movement to bring Dr. Aubrey to Mexia, especially are they appreciative of the fact that the lecture is complimentary, and every citizen of Mexia who feels an interest in his own town is urged to be present at the Central Presbyterian church tonight at 8:15.

President Hardy Eubanks of the Mexia Rotary club in speaking of this meeting urged every Rotarian in the city to be present and in speaking of it said, "Let's show the citizenship and the Chamber of Commerce that the Rotary club is 100% behind the Chamber of Commerce, not only with their verbal endorsement, but with their actual presence and with their active co-operation as well as financial support." The members of the Rotary club are expected to assemble at the Mexia Battery & Tire Company No. 3 at the corner of Palestine and McKinney streets at 8 o'clock and then move to the church auditorium in a body, as 100% attendance and always on time are two Rotary mottoes, all the boys are urged to be there to represent the Rotary club.

Senator Lodge Wants Another World Court

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Senator Lodge intends to ask the Foreign Relations Committee to act promptly upon his resolution for the third Hague tribunal to establish a world court, separated from the League of Nations, he said today. Senator Lodge said he had been assured of considerable support for his resolution in the Senate. Democratic members are preparing to assail Lodge's proposal on the ground that it is merely an attempt to complicate the issue so that nothing can be done for a long time.

Passenger Liner Hole Amidship Limpers into Port

NEW YORK, May 9.—With a ragged hole amidship the liner Orca limped towards New York today with only fifty five passengers aboard, following a collision in a dense fog with the steamship Forsanger, fifty miles east of Father Point, Quebec. The Orca discharged most of her passengers at Quebec.

His arms through the heavy barred cell and embraced his aged father and brother.

"I am sorry for my wife and my children—for myself, I am ready," said Lamentini.

THREE DIE IN KENTUCKY EDDYVILLE, Ky., May 9.—Three men were electrocuted here today in the first triple execution ever staged in Kentucky.

ONE IN CALIFORNIA.

SAN QUENTIN PENITENTIARY, Calif., May 9.—Marino Casares, 60, the oldest man to die on the gallows in California, was hanged here today for killing Mike Fernandez last January. He faced death gamely, refusing to make a dying statement.

MEN AND WOMEN IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

General Erich von Ludendorff, Hindenburg's right hand man in the World War, elected to the German Reichstag, declared it was "inconceivable that Germany could accept and carry out the terms of the Dawes report." Elsie Ferguson, famous actress, has taken her third husband, Frederick Worlock, an English actor, whom she married in Great Neck, Long Island. Julius W. ("Nicky") Arnstein, husband of Fannie Brice, the actress, failed to appear in Criminal Court, Washington, D. C., to start serving his two-year sentence for taking stolen bonds into the District. His $10,000 bail was forfeited and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. Dr. Robert Goddard, of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., who believes it possible to shoot a rocket beyond the sphere of terrestrial attractions, and thus to reach other planets, has such a rocket under construction for an experimental flight in the late summer. It is designed to ascend ten miles by means of a series of following explosions.

Mexia Shriners Capture Waco

Fighting Among Themselves in Ruhr

BERLIN, May 9.—Separatists as well as communists are trying desperately to take advantage of the situation in the Ruhr, where 300,000 miners are locked out or are on strike.

A separatist plot was unearthed today which provided for formation of the "Ruhr economic state." Documents revealing the plot showed that the separatist plan embodied occupation of the mines, the products of which could then be devoted to Reparations, but not wholly at the miners expense.

It was proposed to start negotiations with France, Belgium and Great Britain in the name of the Ruhr state once the occupation was effected.

The workers would also have the eight hour day upon which they have insisted.

Meanwhile the strikes and lock-outs continue, with increasing prospects of a sympathy strike in Saxony.

The German government is willing to settle the Ruhr economic questions but shies at intervention due to the political aspects of the lock-outs.

THE WEATHER

East Texas—Tonight and Saturday unsettled, with local showers.

West Texas—Tonight and Saturday unsettled. Local showers in the east.

AUTO CARAVAN OF HUNDRED MAKE TRIP

To say that the Mexia Shrine club captured Waco would be speaking lightly—because they did more than capture—they simply took over Waco and made the Waco bunch like it.

Driving into Waco in a caravan of automobiles one hundred strong, headed by the officers of the Shrine club, they proceeded to immediately enlighten the Waco Shrine as to what a real live wire bunch of Shriners the Mexia club had—and did they advertise the Circus—I'll say they did, and there is no doubt but that one of the biggest nights of the Circus will be "Waco."

Every member who made the trip says that they thoroughly enjoyed themselves, and that it was a trip that will never be forgotten.

Everything In Readiness For Shrine Circus

Every citizen of Mexia is anxiously waiting for these words, because it will mean the opening of the biggest and best Circus ever in Mexia—it means that the Shriners of Mexia will give to the citizens a gala week of entertainment that will surpass anything ever before attempted.

If "Tommy, Frank and Harry" get in late Sunday night, the parents will

(A Unique Profession)

Among the most interesting careers which women have undertaken is that of Miss Grace H. Henry, one of the originators of the Junior League, the international philanthropic organization of young society women. She has attained a national reputation by her producing of Junior League plays all over the country. She has just completed a successful season in New York in which she put on two amateur performances, "Best Sellers" and a revival of "The Red Mill" and has now gone to Portland, Ore., to put on the Junior League play there. Miss Henry's talents are remarkable in that she usually writes the play, designs the scenery and directs the choruses. Miss Henry has also produced amateur plays in Kansas City, Buffalo and Quebec.

GOVERNOR NEFF'S MANLY STAND.

In another column of today's News appears a letter from Governor Neff to Mr. McAdoo extending to him a cordial welcome on his trip through Texas today. Every democrat in Texas should read the Governor's letter. It breathes the spirit of true democracy. Among other things the Governor says: "The democrats of Texas frequently fight among themselves, but when the party speaks contending factions cease and all keep step beneath democracy's banner, fighting for a common cause."

The News commends Governor Neff for his candid statement. It has sometimes happened in Texas that alleged democrats become "peevish" when the party does not agree with them on issues or on nominees; and like a spoiled or headstrong child they sulk or bolt the party and attempt to wreck it, because it does not accept their view. But a true democrat is not a bolter.

When America entered the world war the late Champ Clark, like the true statesman that he was, in reference to the two great political parties said: "During peace we are as separate and distinct as the waves of the ocean, but in war we are one as the sea." That is true of the democratic party in all its considerations. Until a decision based on its combined judgment is reached, the principles of democracy entitle every democrat to present his view candidly and militantly and thereby help mold the actions of the party; but when a final decision is reached after a full and fair discussion, every true democrat bows to the will of the majority.

Governor Neff exhibits this splendid spirit of democracy in his cordial welcome to McAdoo and the democrats of Texas will commend him for it.

Patterson's Column

Bill Shakespeare was a wise old bloke. He said, be good for when you creak the evil that you do lives on while folks forget the good you've done,—so leave no evil on your way but with kind efforts fill each day. He said another thing, "First to your own and single self be true," then sure as night time follows sun you can't be false to any one. Also he said, blame but yourself if you fall short in fame or pelf—our fortunes dwell not in a star but in our selves is what we are and we can make them great or small—God gives the chance to each and all.

Bill died before he learned that he had scored with his philosophy for home folks are last to admit when some bright neighbor makes a hit so maybe if YOU struggle on three centuries after you are gone some guy will rise up and allow how in your day YOU were a "WOW."

Structural Forms Common To All Rocks

By R. R. EDSON

There are structural forms more or less common to all rock formation and can be seen at almost any exposure of rock surface. Among these are the bedding planes of different layers of strata from a fraction of an inch to many feet, cleavage planes or lines of easiest fracture and joint cracks which are caused by shrinkage and different from cleavage planes.

Larger structural forms are the giant mountain ranges coursing across entire continents with their deep and often wide synclinal valleys between.

All rock formation whether on the sides of mountain ranges, in the valleys or on the broad coastal plains show the signs of bedding planes of the different layers of material, the cleavage planes of the rock material and the joint cracks common to all rocks to some degree. Even in igneous and metamorphic rocks this law holds good as seen in the beautiful columnar forms caused by cleavage and joint crack planes in basaltic cliffs in many places. The pinnacles of the Hudson river are a marvel of this form of structure.

Warping and folding, crumpling and faulting are the forces that cause the larger structural forms and which may be influenced to varying degrees by the minor structural forms seen everywhere.

Many of the major structural forms in Texas rich in oil and gas have their strike parallel to the strike of the border of a continuous layer of formation as is often seen in a scarp line marking the overlapping edge of the strata. In geology shore lines are considered lines of weakness and it is along these margins of the sea that the greatest thrusting faulting and folding occur. Due to unevenness in form of major folding along lines of strike of bedding planes transverse folds may be found at any place along the structure. Many such transverse folds are found along general lines of deformation faulting or folding and may have a large measure of importance as a source of oil and gas. Extended lines of deformation coursing across the country for long distances may be marked by many transverse folds at more or less right angles to the strike.

The extended line of faulting and folding, "Balcones system" producing the oil fields of Powell, Richland, Currie, Mexia, etc., and extending still further southwest no doubt furnishes such transverse folds. The consequent parallel synclines cause the saddles or closures separating the different individual oil and gas pools found. These transverse folds may be slight irregularities along major structural lines or may be large and extensive to the degree of effecting other parallel major structural lines of deformation at points of intersection of same. These transverse or cross folds have the largest possible effect over structural forms favorable to the location of oil and gas fields. There are many geological conditions that may affect the existence or non-existence of oil and gas in a favorable structural form. Sand conditions in a stated geological horizon is of exceptional importance and may vary greatly within closely defined limits. Various reasons have been explained as the cause of difference in thickness, texture, position, etc., of the same strata of sand in related and often nearby points. The action of the sorting power of water as the sand layer was originally laid down must account largely for the difference. An example of this may be seen along the entire coast of Texas by the formation of immense littorals long narrow strips at short distances off from the main land. Some of these are Padre Island, Matagorda Island, Galveston Island, etc. These begin in the bed of the margin of the sea and are gradually built up until they become completely shut off from the mainland. After the inner lagoon is entirely closed to the action of the waves it in turn becomes filled with a material of a different order. This causes the lens shaped form of the strip of land which at first was built up as a littoral by the action of the waters on the sands of the sea.

This problem is well understood by hydrographical engineers. Government and local authorities are continually combating the agencies of nature in effort to prevent the closing of important channels at this and other industrial points.

A sand formation on a given geological horizon may be broad and extensive more or less uniform in character or may be varying erratic and lenticular in form. Or a structural formative condition favorable for oil and gas and lack the sand condition necessary for production. Conversely at another point along the same geological horizon a structural formation might be underlaid with abundant layer of sand. For reasons unknown fault lines and sheared zones have a disturbing effect on sand conditions.

Beginning at a point at the intersection of Mexia oil field and extending east through Freestone county is a line of transverse folding which may effect in a very favorable manner the possibilities of oil and gas in the Butler dome district. At or near the point of influence of this cross folding with the Butler dome line of major deformation are physical conditions of the earth's surface that indicate most favorably the existence of oil and gas in paying quantities. The Butler dome district lies directly in line of strike and course of an extended geological deformity showing across the country for long distances. Butler salt dome proper is not only a gigantic disturbance of the earth's surface but is unusually compared to salt domes generally. The domal form of the salt core has caused the tilting of the formation around the sides showing the dip of strata in plain manner. A peculiar characteristic of salt dome structure as studied in Texas is that they do not affect the tilting of overlying formation to any great distance away from the salt core.

However the occurrence of a series of these salt domes along a well arranged line of strike certainly points to a possible formative connection between them. Such formative connection may exist in the older and deeply buried periods of formation and all traces be obscured by the newer and more recent series of formation laid down on top of the older. Around the base of this dome and still within the sphere of structural influence of this massive disturbance is a most likely and credible place for the discovery of oil and gas in great commercial quantities. With the idea of extended lines of deformation in mind with the south side of the north side is to be favored altho this may not necessarily prove correct.

At distances away from this dome toward the south line of Freestone county the geological features in many places are such as to suggest the probabilities of oil and gas. Fault lines and sheared zones have been discovered and traced by different geologists in various places. So also have anticlinal folds in apparently well formed structures been found and considerable attention given to the working out and determining their limits.

It is the opinion of many well informed oil operators and geologists that careful and systematic development of Butler dome district will bring rich rewards. The many favorable indications show that the district only awaits the proper and workmanlike drilling of wells to open up oil and gas fields of great commercial importance. The Butler district is easily reached by good roads from Teague the largest metropolis in Freestone county on the T. & B. V. Railway and from Oakwood on the I. & G. N. Railway and lies between the two points.

actor or may be varying erratic and lenticular in form. Or a structural formative condition favorable for oil and gas and lack the sand condition necessary for production. Conversely at another point along the same geological horizon a structural formation might be underlaid with abundant layer of sand. For reasons unknown fault lines and sheared zones have a disturbing effect on sand conditions.

Beginning at a point at the intersection of Mexia oil field and extending east through Freestone county is a line of transverse folding which may effect in a very favorable manner the possibilities of oil and gas in the Butler dome district. At or near the point of influence of this cross folding with the Butler dome line of major deformation are physical conditions of the earth's surface that indicate most favorably the existence of oil and gas in paying quantities. The Butler dome district lies directly in line of strike and course of an extended geological deformity showing across the country for long distances. Butler salt dome proper is not only a gigantic disturbance of the earth's surface but is unusually compared to salt domes generally. The domal form of the salt core has caused the tilting of the formation around the sides showing the dip of strata in plain manner. A peculiar characteristic of salt dome structure as studied in Texas is that they do not affect the tilting of overlying formation to any great distance away from the salt core.

However the occurrence of a series of these salt domes along a well arranged line of strike certainly points to a possible formative connection between them. Such formative connection may exist in the older and deeply buried periods of formation and all traces be obscured by the newer and more recent series of formation laid down on top of the older. Around the base of this dome and still within the sphere of structural influence of this massive disturbance is a most likely and credible place for the discovery of oil and gas in great commercial quantities. With the idea of extended lines of deformation in mind with the south side of the north side is to be favored altho this may not necessarily prove correct.

At distances away from this dome toward the south line of Freestone county the geological features in many places are such as to suggest the probabilities of oil and gas. Fault lines and sheared zones have been discovered and traced by different geologists in various places. So also have anticlinal folds in apparently well formed structures been found and considerable attention given to the working out and determining their limits.

It is the opinion of many well informed oil operators and geologists that careful and systematic development of Butler dome district will bring rich rewards. The many favorable indications show that the district only awaits the proper and workmanlike drilling of wells to open up oil and gas fields of great commercial importance. The Butler district is easily reached by good roads from Teague the largest metropolis in Freestone county on the T. & B. V. Railway and from Oakwood on the I. & G. N. Railway and lies between the two points.

Beauty Gone, Girl Asks $500,000.

MISS HELEN JESMER.

This photograph of Helen Jesmer, former member of the Follies in New York City, was taken before she went auto riding with Philip Morgan Plant, 23-year-old stepson of U. S. District Attorney William Hayward, who inherited $15,000,000 from his father, the steamship and railroad magnate. On the ride the car skidded and Miss Jesmer was injured, losing the sight of one eye and having her face crushed in. As a result of the alleged loss of her beauty her suit for $500,000 is on trial in a New York court.

Texas Centennial Board to Meet In Austin May 21st

Texas may well aspire to challenge admiration of the world and weld a spirit of cooperation that will make the Lone Star State the commonwealth pattern of the universe with its proposed Centennial celebration in the judgement of those who directed the affairs of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in 1904 at St. Louis.

Business men who have witnessed the extraordinary expansion of that city as a result of the Exposition, are watching with keen interest the development of plans for a great Texas celebration. Ready cooperation has been given the Texas enterprise by members of the St. Louis World's Fair Board and Texans owe a debt of gratitude to the St. Louisians, Cato Sells, Chairman of the Texas Centennial celebration, said, when he made public the text of a telegram received from David R. Francis, president of the Louisiana Purchase Historical Association, former Governor, former Minister to Russia and Executive head of the St. Louis Exposition. The telegram from Governor Francis to Chairman Sells on the occasion of the 20th Anniversary of the opening of the St. Louis World's Fair, follows:

Hon. Cato Sells,
Chairman Texas Centennial Celebration,
Dallas, Texas.

"The members of the Louisiana Historical Association assembled at their annual meeting on this the 20th anniversary of the opening of the St. Louis World's Fair send greetings to the officers and directors of the Texas Centennial and cordially wish them every success in their undertaking. The St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 made St. Louis a world city. It developed a spirit of courage and confidence which marked a new area in this community. Texas with its glorious history, its vast area, its boundless resources and its indomitable people may well aspire to present to the world an exposition of international scope which will not only commemorate historic events of great interest and significance but will exemplify in fitting manner a century of American civilization and progress.

(Signed) David R. Francis, Pres.

Plans for the meeting of the Centennial Board at Austin May 21st are being worked out by Chairman Sells, and Secretary Martin.

Kelly duplicated his achievement of Wednesday by dropping a homer over the right field fence in the ninth.

The game was entirely free from errors on either side. With the exception of the first inning it was a good game. The long lead which the visitors early obtained served to depress the fans who hoped vainly for another avalanche of hits which featured the games Wednesday and the day before, but Schmid pitched a tight game with good backing giving the pessimistic sports their chance to howl.

Peel got off to a somewhat bad start and once or twice the Skipper had the little left handed twister in the background warming up but he pulled through in good fashion and held down the mound with credit. He struck out three Indians during the game.

McDowell played his usual game Thursday, twice snatching difficult flies out of the air at full speed.

Leedy went back to his old position at second base yesterday. Butler held down the initial bag with Skipper Fowlkes catching.

Ludwick did his best Thursday but the Indians seemed to have gotten his number.

Fans will probably have a chance to see Jefferies in action before the week is out. The lefthander from Westminster College has the stuff and if no bad luck happens to him he is pretty certain to put up a mighty good game. He has the advantage of being a good hitter, too.

Rod Whitney, who played with the Gushers last year is now catching with the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast League. Rod has not yet had a chance to show his stuff but he still holds his berth on the club and no doubt will be seen in action before long.

Bob Gillpie, of the Austin Rangers

last year, is also with the Vernon club of the P. C. League. He plays right field and has been wielding the stick to the tune of over 300.

McIver, Indian manager, was back in right field Thursday. The Waco Skipper was sick Wednesday.

Dramatic Verbal Battle Being Waged Over the Future of Poor Old Dobbin

Friends and foes of Old Dobbin are locked in a dramatic verbal tilt. Motor-truck men say Dobbin is doomed. Horsemen raise fiery denial. They go way back to the days when the Arab's steed became the classic of primitive romance; they say without the horse civilization might have been but a dream. One day Denver passed an ordinance barring horses from streets. Next day Denver was dog from a snowstorm by the horse after all motors failed. And the ordinance was thrown away.

Carrying the horsemen's argument further, 24,900 work horse licenses were issued in Chicago the first three months this year "because horses are cheaper for short hauls even in cities." Only for long hauls are motor-trucks replacing draft horses, and "while driving horses are disappearing, riding steeds are replacing them. Horse sports are particularly popular."

MOTHERS' DAY
SUNDAY, MAY 11TH.

For this occasion, when universal homage is paid to motherhood, let your gift to your Mother convey that message of love and affection which flows alone can tell.

It may be that some of our patrons do not know that flowers can be sent to their mothers in distant cities and towns on Mothers' Day. But since the advent of the Florists Telegraphic Delivery Association this has been made possible and now distance is no barrier. We are members of this Association with branches in over three thousand towns and cities in the United States and foreign countries, and if you will give us your order for flowers to be sent to your Mother, we will telegraph the florist in her home town or the nearest florist to her, and flowers will be selected and delivered just as carefully as if you had bought them in our own store.

There are others, too, to whom the memory of Mother is just as dear, and who would like to have flowers placed on her grave, where she lies sleeping in some beautiful cemetery or some little churchyard in a remote village. They, too, can realize this desire. Orders for flowers for Mother's grave can be handled in the same way, by telegraph.

Honor Mother by wearing flowers on Mothers' Day—bright flowers for Mother living—white flowers for Mother's memory.

SUMPTER P. T. A. CLOSES YEAR OF SERVICE

planned as an observance in honor of National Boy's Week but since Thursday was designated Texas Health Day, several health features were added to the program and presented by pupils of the lower grades.

It would be difficult to pick the hit of the afternoon as the entire program was enthusiastically received but special mention must be made of the Boys' Quartet and Boys' Orchestra.

The association had the pleasure at the previous meeting of hearing the well-trained voices of Sumpter School Girls' Glee Club but was unprepared to find that this school was also developing the boys along musical lines. The Quartet was reportedly encoored and responded with catchy numbers.

The Boys' Orchestra is composed of five pieces; three saxophones, a cornet, and drums with Mrs. Akin at the piano. The splendid numbers they rendered received much applause. Sumpter School Orchestra is a credit not only to the school but to Mexia.

It was not just the music specialties that were appreciated for the debaters brought down the house. It was suggested by those present that the debate be repeated for the public at large.

Sumpter School is planning a special observance of Mothers' Day. But as this was the last meeting of Parent-Teachers Association the Art Department of the school made little flower baskets and filled them with flowers. These were given as a special tribute to Mothers who attended the meeting.

The program in full was as follows:

THE BOOK OF ISAAH

Statistics of the large libraries show conclusively how great is the public taste for fiction. Fiction in the ordinary conception is a type of story writing which carries with it tales of human interest such as tragedy, adventure and love.

In the great Book of Isaiah chapter after chapter, and there are six of them, is replete with stirring accounts of devastation, adventure and strategy such as might have been carried in our daily newspapers in describing the late war.

This book may be read as fiction or as accurate records of authentic history according to individual belief. Such chapter heads as the parable of the Ravaged Vineyard, Isaiah Sent to Encourage King Ahaz, Assyria to Overcome Israel, The Child Who Shall Reign as Prince, Universal Peace out of the Branch of Jesse, Babylon to Become Utterly Desolate, The Doom of Syria, Egypt to Fall by Civil War, These and many others are more satisfying and thrilling reading than many of today's best sellers.

The Red Letter Large Print Bible now being distributed by this paper contains an endless amount of reading matter which if written as pure fiction by a contemporary author would bring the statistical records of general fiction to even larger figures.

Why does any one neglect to read such typical literature? See today's coupon for information as to how easy this beautiful printed and handsomely bound Bible can be called for at this office, or mailed to you.

Making Ready For Boys Camp Ground

Brand new tents in carload lots are enroute from the army supply base to Camp Roosevelt, LaPorte, Indiana, to provide shelter for the hundreds of boys who will be trained in mind and body there this summer from June 30 to August 16.

Major General Harry C. Hale, commanding the Sixth Corps Area, U. S. Army, approved the new issue of canvas after inspecting the camp last summer.

"Parents can find no better place for boys in the summer than Camp Roosevelt," said General Hale, after witnessing a parade of six hundred up right, clear-eyed youths. "I am going to send four boys to the camp each year, as I did last."

Over three thousand boys between the ages of ten and sixteen got their first taste of outdoor life under army discipline, under the tents being replaced by these new ones. The camp has been in existence for six years, and the coming summer promises to be better than any of the previous ones. New and interesting courses are being planned, and in addition to those already included in the camp program, will provide for boys from 10 to 16 the finest kind of summer's outing that can be found. Swimming, athletics of all kinds, rifle practice on the long and short ranges, woodcraft, campcraft, military drill, horsemanship, and school courses, if desired, are offered.

The Camp Roosevelt Committee, a group of Chicago business men, co-operates with the Board of Education and the U. S. Army in making the camp possible. Major F. L. Beals, U. S. Army, in command of the camp, is supervisor of physical education and military training in the Chicago high schools, and maintains camp headquarters at 460 South State Street, Chicago, the year round.

CISCO, Texas, May 9.—Harry Alwood Ranger, complained there was "no justice" when a jury in district court here sentenced him to two years in the penitentiary for "possession of liquor."

TEN MURDERERS WERE EXECUTED TODAY

Speaker Gillette To Go From House To Senate

SIX ITALIANS PAY WITH LIVES FOR LOUISIANA MURDER

AMITE, La., May 9.—Modern law demanded six lives for one here today. As crowds of men jammed streets of Amite, leading from the jail, six Italians sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Dallas Calmes, were made ready for the death march.

Although the executions will not start until noon, and only a few may witness the actual hangings, crowds began gathering during the night as near the jail as guards permitted. Some spectators slept in automobiles or rolled in blankets on the ground.

Many of the curious were from Independence where Calmes was shot and killed during an attempted bank robbery three years ago. They were on hand to see that "justice" is done in case, by some last minute technicality or official leniency, the prisoners should not be executed legally. Most of those from Independence and other points in Tangipahoa parish were of French descent.

Mingled with them were countrymen of the prisoners—friends and relatives—who hoped some means might be found before the hour set for the execution of saving the prisoners' lives.

No attempt was made to hide the bitter feeling between the two groups.

Two companies of National Guardsmen patrolled the streets and kept close watch on the jail to prevent disorder. Inside the prison, scores of special deputies and police officials were ready for instant action in case of an outbreak.

Few women were in Amite. Those who remained in the village, stayed within doors, but many left last night with the children so as not to be near the scene when the hangings take place.

Throughout the parish, business houses were closed, schools were shut down here and only restaurants, which did a thriving business remained open.

Sheriff Bowden announced the men would be executed in pairs in alphabetical order. First will come boyish Joseph Bocchio, who left a grocery store business to engage in banditry. He drove the auto in the hold-up. It was his first job. He confessed. With him will be Natale Deamore.

The next pair to go to the gallows will be Joseph Giglio and Andrea Lamentia. They will be followed by Joseph Rini and Roy Leona. The latter confessed firing the shot which killed Calmes, the restaurant proprietor in the little French settlement, when he attempted to stop the flight of the robbers from the bank.

The Louisiana law requires a man must hang for at least twenty minutes in order to insure death. If the executions start promptly at noon, the last pair is not expected to go to their deaths before 1:15 p. m.

As the hour of death approached, the prisoners seemed more resigned to their fate and regained some of the confidence and composure which was lost when they were brought to Amite Wednesday from the New Orleans jail, where they had been confined for safe keeping.

During the early morning, two priests shouldered their way through the crowds around the jail to be with the condemned men during their last hours.

The men slept little during the night, spending most of their time in prayer. Last farewells were said by the prisoners and their families.

Deputies and guardsmen were in tears as Deamore's wife and two children hugged and kissed the condemned husband and father.

As Mrs. Deamore and her babies left the prison they came face to face with Mrs. Calmes, widow of the victim.

"For God's sake do something to save my husband for my children's sake," Mrs. Deamore pleaded.

Mrs. Calmes replied she was powerless to act as guards led the distracted woman away.

"But I have forgiven Deamore and the other men for slaying my husband," Mrs. Calmes said.

Rini, who has shown the most nerve gave way to emotion as he stretched

ALL SHOULD HEAR MR. AUBREY TONIGHT

The business public of Mexia is again reminded of the lecture at the Central Presbyterian church tonight when Dr. John E. Aubrey will deliver his famous lecture "The One Mile Town."

The Rotary club Thursday unanimously endorsed the movement to bring Dr. Aubrey to Mexia, especially are they appreciative of the fact that the lecture is complimentary, and every citizen of Mexia who feels an interest in his own town is urged to be present at the Central Presbyterian church tonight at 8:15.

President Hardy Eubanks of the Mexia Rotary club in speaking of this meeting urged every Rotarian in the city to be present and in speaking of it said, "Let's show the citizenship and the Chamber of Commerce that the Rotary club is 100% behind the Chamber of Commerce not only with their verbal endorsement, but with their actual presence and with their active co-operation as well as financial support." The members of the Rotary club are expected to assemble at the Mexia Battery & Tire Company No. 3 at the corner of Palestine and McKinney streets at 8 o'clock and then move to the church auditorium in a body, as 100% attendance and always on time are two Rotary mottoes, all the boys are urged to be there to represent the Rotary club.

Mexia Shriners Capture Waco

Fighting Among Themselves in Ruhr

BERLIN, May 9.—Separatists as well as communists are trying desperately to take advantage of the situation in the Ruhr, where 300,000 miners are locked out or are on strike.

A separatists plot was unearthed today which provided for formation of the "Ruhr economic state." Documents revealing the plot showed that the separatist plan embodied occupation of the mines, the products of which could then be devoted to reparations, but not wholly at the miners expense.

It was proposed to start negotiations with France, Belgium and Great Britain in the name of the Ruhr state once the occupation was effected.

The workers would also have the eight hour day upon which they have insisted.

Meanwhile the strikes and lock-outs continue, with increasing prospects of a sympathy strike in Saxony.

The German government is willing to settle the Ruhr economic questions but shies at intervention due to the political aspects of the lock-outs.

AUTO CARAVAN OF HUNDRED MAKE TRIP

To say that the Mexia Shrine club captured Waco would be speaking lightly—because they did more than capture—they simply took over Waco and made the Waco bunch like it.

Driving into Waco in a caravan of automobiles one hundred strong, headed by the officers of the Shrine club, they proceeded to immediately enlighten the Waco Shrine as to what a real live wire bunch of Shriners the Mexia club had—and did they advertise the Circus—I'll say they did, and there is no doubt but that one of the biggest nights of the Circus will be "Waco" night. Every member who made the trip says that they thoroughly enjoyed themselves, and that it was a trip that will never be forgotten.

Everything In Readiness For Shrine Circus

Every citizen of Mexia is anxiously waiting for these words, because it will mean the opening of the biggest and best Circus ever in Mexia—it means that the Shriners of Mexia will give to the citizens a gala week of entertainment that will surpass anything ever before attempted.

Among the most interesting careers which women have undertaken is that of Miss Grace R. She has attained a national reputation by her producing of Junior League plays all over the country. She has just completed a successful season in New York in which she put on two amateur performances, "Best Sellers" and a revival of "The Red Mill" and has now gone to Portland, Ore., to put on the Junior League play there. Miss Henry's talents are remarkable in that she usually writes the play, adapts the scenery and directs the choruses. Miss Henry has also produced amateur plays in Kansas City, Buffalo and Quebec.

Governor Pat Neff To Wm. G. McAdoo

GOVERNOR NEFF'S MANLY STAND.

In another column of today's News appears a letter from Governor Neff to Mr. McAdoo extending to him a cordial welcome on his trip through Texas today. Every democrat in Texas should read the Governor's letter. It breathes the spirit of true democracy. Among other things the Governor says: "The democrats of Texas frequently fight among themselves, but when the party speaks contending factions cease and all keep step beneath democracy's banner, fighting for a common cause."

The News commends Governor Neff for his candid statement. It has sometimes happened in Texas that alleged democrats become "peevish" when the party does not agree with them on issues or on nominees; and like a spoiled or headstrong child they sulk or bolt the party and attempt to wreck it, because it does not accept their view. But a true democrat is not a bolter.

When America entered the world war the late Champ Clark, like the true statesman that he was, in reference to the two great political parties said: "During peace we are as separate and distinct as the waves of the ocean, but in war we are one as the sea." That is true of the democratic party in all its considerations. Until a decision based on its combined judgment is reached, the principles of democracy entitle every democrat to present his view candidly and militantly and thereby help mold the actions of the party; but when a final decision is reached after a full and fair discussion, every true democrat bows to the will of the majority.

Governor Neff exhibits this splendid spirit of democracy in his cordial welcome to McAdoo and the democrats of Texas will commend him for it.

Structural Forms Common To All Rocks

By R. R. EDSON

There are structural forms more or less common to all rock formation and can be seen at almost any exposure of rock surface. Among these are the bedding planes of different layers of strata from a fraction of an inch to many feet, cleavage planes or lines of easiest fracture and joint cracks which are caused by shrinkage and different from cleavage planes.

Larger structural forms are the giant mountain ranges coursing across entire continents with their deep and often wide cyclical valleys between. All rock formation whether on the sides of mountain ranges, in the valleys or on the broad coastal plains show the signs of bedding planes of the different layers of material, the cleavage planes of the rock material, and the joint cracks common to all rocks to some degree. Even in igneous and metamorphic rocks this law holds good as seen in the beautiful columnar forms caused by cleavage and joint crack planes in basaltic cliffs in many places. The palisades of the Hudson river are a marvel of this form of structure.

Warping and folding, crumpling and faulting are the forces that cause the larger structural forms and which may be influenced to varying degrees by the minor structural forms seen everywhere.

Many of the major structural forms in Texas rich in oil and gas have their strike parallel to the strike of the border of a continuous layer of formation as is often seen in a scrap line marking the overlapping edge of the strata. In geology shore lines are considered lines of weakness and it is along these margins of the sea that the greatest thrusting faulting and folding occur. Due to unevenness in form of major folding along lines of strike of bedding planes transverse folds may be found at any place along the structure. Many such transverse folds are found along general lines of deformation faulting or folding and may have a large measure of importance as a source of oil and gas. Extended lines of deformation coursing across the country for long distances may be marked by many transverse folds at more or less right angles to the strike.

The extended line of faulting and folding: "Balcones system" producing the oil fields of Powell, Richland, Currie, Mexia, etc., and extending still further southwest no doubt furnishes such transverse folds. The consequent parallel synclines cause the saddles or closures separating the different individual oil and gas pools found. These transverse folds may be slight irregularities along major structural lines or may be large and extensive to the degree of effecting other parallel major structural lines of deformation at points of intersection of same. These transverse or cross folds have the largest possible effect over structural forms favorable to the location of oil and gas fields. There are many geological conditions that may affect the existence or non-existence of oil and gas in a favorable structural form. Sand conditions in a stated geological horizon is of exceptional importance and may vary greatly within closely defined limits. Various reasons have been explained as the cause of difference in thickness, texture, position, etc., of the same strata of sand in related and often nearby points. The action of the sorting power of water as the sand layer was originally laid down must account largely for the difference. An example of this may be seen along the entire coast of Texas by the formation of immense littorals long narrow strips at short distances off from the main land. Some of these are Padre Island, Matagorda Island, Galveston Island, etc. These begin in the bed of the margin of the sea and are gradually built up until they become completely shut off from the mainland. After the inner lagoon is entirely closed to the action of the waves it in turn becomes filled with a material of a different order. This causes the lens shaped form of the strip of land which at first was built up as a littoral by the action of the waters on the sands of the sea.

This problem is well understood by hydrographical engineers. Government and local authorities are continually combating the agencies of nature in effort to prevent the closing of important channels at this and other industrial points. A sand formation on a given geological horizon may be broad and extensive more or less uniform in character or may be varying erratic and lenticular in form. Or a structural formative condition favorable for oil and gas and lack the sand condition necessary for production. Conversely at another point along the same geological horizon a structural formation might be underlain with abundant layer of sand. For reasons unknown fault lines and sheared zones have a disturbing effect on sand conditions.

Beginning at a point at the intersection of Mexia oil field and extending east through Freestone county is a line of transverse folding which may effect in a very favorable manner the possibilities of oil and gas in the Butler dome district. At or near the point of influence of this cross folding with the Butler dome line of major deformation are physical conditions of the earth's surface that indicate most favorably the existence of oil and gas in paying quantities. The Butler dome district lies directly in line of strike and course of an extended geological deformation showing across the country for long distances. Butler salt dome proper is not only a gigantic disturbance of the earth's surface but is unusually compared to salt domes generally. The domal form of the salt core has caused the tilting of the formation around the sides showing the dip of strata in plain manner. A peculiar characteristic of salt dome structure as studied in Texas is that they do not affect the tilting of overlying formation to any great distance away from the salt core.

However the occurrence of a series of these salt domes along a well arranged line of strike certainly points to a possible formative connection between them. Such formative connection may exist in the older and deeply buried periods of formation and all traces be obscured by the newer and more recent series of formation laid down on top of the older. Around the base of this dome and still within the sphere of structural influence of this massive disturbance is a most likely and credible place for the discovery of oil and gas in great commercial quantities. With the idea of extended lines of deformation in mind with the south side of the north side is to be favored altho this may not necessarily prove correct.

At distances away from this dome toward the south line of Freestone county the geological features in many places are such as to suggest the probabilities of oil and gas. Fault lines and sheared zones have been discovered and traced by different geologists in various places. So also have anticlinal folds in apparently well formed structures been found and considerable attention given to the working out and determining their limits.

It is the opinion of many well informed oil operators and geologists that careful and systematic development of Butler dome district will bring rich rewards. The many favorable indications show that the district only awaits the proper and workmanlike drilling of wells to open up oil and gas fields of great commercial importance. The Butler district is easily reached by good roads from Teague the largest metropolis in Freestone county on the T. & B. V. Railway and from Oakwood on the I. & G. N. Railway and lies between the two points.

Texas Centennial Board to Meet In Austin May 21st

Texas may well aspire to challenge admiration of the world and weld a spirit of cooperation that will make the Lone Star State the commonwealth pattern of the universe with its proposed Centennial celebration in the judgement of those who directed the affairs of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in 1904 at St. Louis.

Business men who have witnessed the extraordinary expansion of that city as a result of the Exposition, are watching with keen interest the development of plans for a great Texas celebration. Ready cooperation has been given the Texas enterprise by members of the St. Louis World's Fair Board and Texans owe a debt of gratitude to the St. Louisians, Cato Sells, Chairman of the Texas Centennial celebration, said, when he made public the text of a telegram received from David R. Francis, president of the Louisiana Purchase Historical Association, former Governor, former Minister to Russia and Executive head of the St. Louis Exposition. The telegram from Governor Francis to Chairman Sells on the occasion of the 20th Anniversary of the opening of the St. Louis World's Fair, follows:

Hon. Cato Sells, Chairman Texas Centennial Celebration, Dallas, Texas.

"The members of the Louisiana Historical Association assembled at their annual meeting on this the 20th anniversary of the opening of the St. Louis World's Fair send greetings to the officers and directors of the Texas Centennial and cordially wish them every success in their undertaking. The St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 made St. Louis a world city. It developed a spirit of courage and confidence which marked a new area in this community. Texas with its glorious history, its vast area, its boundless resources and its indomitable people may well aspire to present to the world an exposition of international scope which will not only commemorate historic events of great interest and significance but will exemplify in fitting manner a century of American civilization and progress.

(Signed) David R. Francis, Pres. Plans for the meeting of the Centennial Board at Austin May 21st are being worked out by Chairman Sells, and Secretary Martin.

Sportlights

Kelly duplicated his achievement of Wednesday by dropping a homer over the right field fence in the ninth.

The game was entirely free from errors on either side. With the exception of the first inning it was a good game. The long lead which the visitors early obtained served to depress the fans who hoped vainly for another avalanche of hits which featured the games Wednesday and the day before, but Schmid pitched a tight game with good backing giving the pessimistic sports their chance to howl.

Peel got off to a somewhat bad start and once or twice the Skipper had the little left handed twister in the back-ground warming up but he pulled through in good fashion and held down the mound with credit. He struck out three Indians during the game.

McDowell played his usual game Thursday, twice snatching difficult flies out of the air at full speed.

Leedy went back to his old position at second base yesterday. Butler held down the initial bag with Skipper Fowlkes catching.

Ludwick did his best Thursday but the Indians seemed to have gotten his number.

Fans will probably have a chance to see Jeffries in action before the week is out. The lefthander from Westminster College has the stuff and if no bad luck happens to him he is pretty certain to put up a mighty good game. He has the advantage of being a good hitter, too.

Rod Whitney, who played with the Gushers last year is now catching with the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast League. Rod has not yet had a chance to show his stuff but he still holds his berth on the club and no doubt will be seen in action before long.

Bob Gillispie, of the Austin Rangers

last year, is also with the Vernon club of the P. C. League. He plays right field and has been welding the stick to the tune of over .300.

Melver, Indian manager, was back in right field Thursday. The Waco Skipper was sick Wednesday.

Dramatic Verbal Battle Being Waged Over the Future of Poor Old Dobbin

Friends and foes of Old Dobbin are locked in a dramatic verbal tilt. Motor-truck men say Dobbin is doomed. Horsemen raise fiery denial. They go way back to the days when the Arab's steed became the classic of primitive romance; they say without the horse civilization might have been but a dream. One day Denver passed an ordinance barring horses from streets. Next day Denver was dug from a snowstorm by the horse after all motors failed. And the ordinance was thrown away.

Carrying the horsemen's argument further, 24,900 work horse licenses were issued in Chicago the first three months this year "because horses are cheaper for short hauls even in cities." Only for long hauls are motor-trucks replacing draft horses, and "while driving horses are disappearing, riding steeds are replacing them. Horse sports are particularly popular."

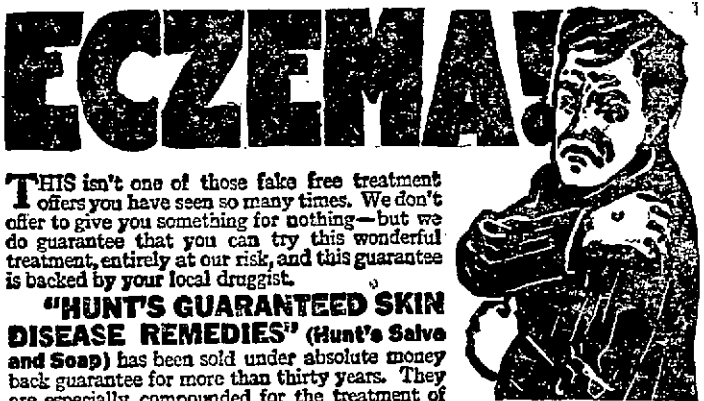

Moreover, say Dobbin's exponents, the average horse's working capacity is becoming greater, due to better care. Right now all horses are being or have already been clipped—a spring practice formerly slighted—which contributes greatly to the health of the horse, just as it does to cows. It permits quick sweat evaporation, greater comfort and increased working capacity. Average life of the draft horse, formerly placed at eight years, has been extended two years by better care. The oldest horse in the world, Clover, owned and driven nearly half a century by the Rev. Dr. Uriah Myers, Catawissa, Pa., just celebrated his fifty-second birthday. Each spring for years he has been clipped and groomed and is always kept on a careful ration. "You motor-truck men think that over!" said a horseman.

ATHENS.—Site has been secured by the Athens Home Telephone company for a new central office. Rebuilding of the plant is to begin at once and the new system will represent an investment of a hundred thousand dollars.

ROARING SPRINGS.—An electric lighting and ice plant is to be built here at once by J. F. McCord of Quanah.

LAREDO.—The telephone company is now in the new central exchange building and the underground cables are completed throughout the business section of the city.

TYLER.—New building to the value of $600,000 is now under way in this city in the business district and the value of new residential construction is more than $50,000.

"HUNT'S GUARANTEED SKIN DISEASE REMEDIES" (Hunt's Salve and Soap) has been sold under absolute money back guarantee for more than thirty years. They are especially compounded for the treatment of Eczema, Itch, Ring Worm, Tetter, and other itching skin diseases.

Thousands of letters testify to their curative properties. M. Timberlin, a reputable dry goods dealer in Durant, Oklahoma, says: "I suffered with Eczema for ten years, and spent $1,000.00 for doctors' treatments, without result. One box of Hunt's Cure entirely cured me."

MOTHERS' DAY SUNDAY, MAY 11TH.

For this occasion, when universal homage is paid to motherhood, let your gift to your Mother convey that message of love and affection which flowers alone can tell.

It may be that some of our patrons do not know that flowers can be sent to their mothers in distant cities and towns on Mothers' Day. But since the advent of the Florists Telegraphic Delivery Association this has been made possible and now distance is no barrier. We are members of this Association with branches in over three thousand towns and cities in the United States and foreign countries, and if you will give us your order for flowers to be sent to your Mother, we will telegraph the florist in her home town or the nearest florist to her, and flowers will be selected and delivered just as carefully as if you had bought them in our own store.

There are others, too, to whom the memory of Mother is just as dear, and who would like to have flowers placed on her grave, where she lies sleeping in some beautiful cemetery or some little churchyard in a remote village. They, too, can realize this desire. Orders for flowers for Mother's grave can be handled in the same way, by telegraph.

Honor Mother by wearing flowers on Mothers' Day—bright flowers for Mother living—white flowers for Mother's memory.

planned as an observance in honor of National Boy's Week but since Thursday was designated Texas Health Day, several health features were added to the program and presented by pupils of the lower grades.

It would be difficult to pick the hit of the afternoon as the entire program was enthusiastically received but special mention must be made of the Boys' Quartet and Boys' Orchestra. The association had the pleasure at the previous meeting of hearing the well-trained voices of Sumpter School Girls' Glee Club but was unprepared to find that this school was also developing the boys along musical lines. The Quartet was repeatedly encoored and responded with catchy numbers.

The Boys' Orchestra is composed of five pieces; three saxophones, a cornet, and drums with Mrs. Akin at the piano. The splendid numbers they rendered received much applause. Sumpter School Orchestra is a credit not only to the school but to Mexia.

It was not just the music specialties that were appreciated for the debaters brought down the house. It was suggested by those present that the debate be repeated for the public at large.

Sumpter School is planning a special observance of Mothers' Day. But as this was the last meeting of Parent-Teachers Association the Art Department of the school made little flower baskets and filled them with flowers. These were given as a special tribute to Mothers who attended the meeting. The program in full was as follows:

Shubert Theatres Won by Equity Actors.

THE BOOK OF ISAIAH

Statistics of the large libraries show conclusively how great is the public taste for fiction. Fiction in the ordinary conception is a type of story writing which carries with it tales of human interest such as tragedy, adventure and love.

In the great Book of Isaiah chapter after chapter, and there are sixty-six of them, is replete with stirring accounts of devastation, adventure and strategy such as might have been carried in our daily newspapers in describing the late war.

This book may be read as fiction or as accurate records of authentic history according to individual belief.

Such chapter heads as the parable of the Ravaged Vineyard, Isaiah Sent to Encourage King Ahaz, Assyria to Overcome Israel, The Child Who Shall Reign as Prince, Universal Peace out of the Branch of Jesse, Babylon to Become Utterly Desolate, The Doom of Syria, Egypt to Fall by Civil War. These and many others are more satisfying and thrilling reading than many of today's best sellers.

The Red Letter Large Print Bible now being distributed by this paper contains an endless amount of reading matter which if written as pure fiction by a contemporary author would bring the statistical records of general fiction to even larger figures.

Why does any one neglect to read such typical literature? See today's coupon for information as to how easy this beautifully printed and handsomely bound Bible can be called for at this office, or mailed to you.

THE LATEST STYLES

OF THE YEAR

By HEDDA HOYT

(Fashion Editor of the United Press.)

(Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 8.—The vogue

among the younger set for plaids brings out the plaid sports dress with the bright red patent leather belt, which is worn at a low waistline, large plaid flannel worsteds and gingham, made in simple, straight-lined frocks, are among the smartest of sports attire.

Gold and silver lace will play a prominent part in Summer wardrobe

this year. Gold lace is especially lovely on the golden or titian-haired person, while silver is best suited to the brunette. While gold and silver lace is usually worn over a foundation of either gold or silver metal cloth, the Spring tendency is towards the under-slip of colored chiffon. Silver lace posed over Nile green chiffon is lovely while gold over amber or scarlet is quite the rage.

Many of the most recent lace frocks are so simply made that the home dressmaker could easily copy them.

Their bodies are all cut with the rounded neckline and low waistline, and are sleeveless, while the skirts are quite full and often show the extended hipline, being father-boned at the hips.

The wearing of artificial flowers is fast becoming a fad in America. But-tonierers of tiny mixed flowers are worn with the tailored suits, while orchids, gardenias, lotus buds and large flowers are worn pinned to the fur collar of the long wrap or coat.

At the popular dancing rendezvous one sees young girls with orchids placed over their ears. One very dark-haired young miss wore yellow daisies at one side of her bobbed hair. Wearing one huge flower of velvet or silk on one shoulder or at the edge of the batteau neck is popular. Bright colored flowers are also worn on scarfs or tulle or chiffon. Corsages of all sorts will be worn this Summer.

Making Ready For Boys Camp Ground

Brand new tents in carload lots are enroute from the army supply base to Camp Roosevelt, LaPorte, Indiana, to provide shelter for the hundreds of boys who will be trained in mind and body there this summer from June 30 to August 16.

Major General Harry C. Hale, commanding the Sixth Corps Area, U. S. Army, approved the new issue of canvas after inspecting the camp last summer.

"Parents can find no better place for boys in the summer than Camp Roosevelt," said General Hale, after witnessing a parade of six hundred up right, clear-eyed youths. "I am going to send four boys to the camp each year, as I did last."

Over three thousand boys between the ages of ten and sixteen got their first taste of outdoor life under army discipline, under the tents being replaced by these new ones. The camp has been in existence for six years, and the coming summer promises to be better than any of the previous ones. New and interesting courses are being planned, and in addition to those already included in the camp program, will provide for boys from 10 to 16 the finest kind of summer's outing that can be found. Swimming, athletics of all kinds, rifle practice on the long and short ranges, woodcraft, campcraft, military drill, horsemanship, and school courses, if desired, are offered.

The Camp Roosevelt Committee, a group of Chicago business men, co-operates with the Board of Education and the U. S. Army in making the camp possible. Major F. L. Beals, U. S. Army, in command of the camp, is supervisor of physical education and military training in the Chicago high schools, and maintains camp headquarters at 460 South State Street, Chicago, the year round.

F. H. Seeley, of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will personally be at the Beaton Hotel, and will remain in Corsicana, Monday only, May 12. Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—exemplifying instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain or position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or Incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. Warning—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web truss with under straps, as same rest where the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. He will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section.

P. S. Every statement in this notice has been verified before the Federal and State Courts.—F. H. Seeley, Home Office 117 N. Dearborn St., Chicago. (Adv.)

CISCO, Texas, May 9.—Harry Atwood, Ranger, complained there was "no justice" when a jury in district court here sentenced him to two years in the penitentiary for "possession of liquor."

He appealed the case, because in filling the jury wheel, lawyers, doctors ministers and school teachers were omitted.

Such Is Life In The Big Oil Game

VICTORIA, Texas, May 9.—Frank Ara, local confectioner, is crying over the proverbial spilled milk—though in his case it is oil.

Ara inherited a half-section of apparently useless land near Kingsbury.

He figured he made a "smart deal" when he sold it for $15 per acre.

Recently the land yielded oil and sold for $3,600,000.

Ara peddles candy here now, and complains bitterly that he might be sailing a private yacht.
